Band Elect Officers

The committee, consisting of Councillor H. Clark, chairman,
W. L. Ouimet, secretary, Councillor R. Holmes and G. met the members of the Band in the Council Chamber on Thursday last. The music heard was slightly different to that usually given by the band, but harmony eventually prevailed and good business was done.

Councillor Clark gave the members good advice relative to their all working together and the necessity of discipline and good feeling and it was decided to obtain new instruments and start practice at once.

It was decided to ask the School Board for the loan of a school-room for practice.

The following officers were elected.

A. McDicken, secretary
A. Easton, president.
Councillor Holmes, treasurer.
D. Banks, bandmaster (pro-tem).

Councillor Clark, representing the council, W. Ouimet representing the board of trade and W. Crawford, representing the band, were appointed a permanent band committee.

The band has now been placed on a proper footing, earnest officers appointed and it only remains for the members themselves to unite and work to become the best band in the Pass.
May it be so.

Negotiating For Labrador Railway

Sir Edward Morris interviewed at St. John's, and reported that a body of English capitalists are at present in America, negotiating with a view to constructing a railway through Labrador with a new steamship line to have connection therewith, which would shorten the journey to America from Europe, requiring three nights only on the sea. The immediate object of the capitalists is to obtain charters from the Canadian and Newfoundland governments to carry on the work. There is every probability that they will be granted.

Sir Edward said Newfoundland was against confederation with Canada, but was prepared however to discuss reciprocity with the United States.

argument for restriction of immigration, that we have heard was presented by Dr. Macdonald. The greatest danger in immigration said the Doctor, was not ignorance or poverty, or physical disability. These might all be remedied. But immigrants belonging to races whose whole history was a contradiction of democracy, no matter what their intelligence or alertness, were a danger against which Canada's doors should be safely guarded; not because the labor market was congested, not because of any theory of Canada for Canadians, not because Canadians boasted superiority to the Oriental or other races. The people of Canada dare not put up such bars, they would not be recognized in the judgment hall of the nations. But the supreme right of a self governing nation to protect the sources of its governmental authority and to maintain the foundations of its national life, was recognized in every civilization and the exercise of that right was without offence to and civilized people.

But worse than a foreigner, in Dr. Macdonald's opinion, was the man who purchased his vote, and still one degree worse was the selfish man among intelligent and prosperous citizens whose attitude towards public policy was determined by what there might be in it of selfish gain for himself, or the superior person who talked about the best people but abstained from all share in political campaigns and denied all responsibility for the government of the city or the country.

Dr. Macdonald deplored the lack in the Canadian Government of a national ideal such as that of the Government of New Zealand. The object of giving every citizen adequate access to opportunity, and enabling all the people to enjoy the rewards of honest lives of useful service. In Canada, the Doctor intimated that the Government do not lead public opinion; they follow. They yield to clamor here and coercion there. They are subjects to the strongest pressure and move along the lines of least resistance. That never makes for freedom and stability.

What is conserved for the people here is lost by giving away some franchise rights there. Education for useful service is thwarted by the access to opportunity being blocked by special privileges. Advantages which the God of Nations lavished without stint, in the soil, in the stream, in the mine in the water power, in the forest, have been alienated from the people to make a few millionaires. The question which needs to be put to the men of wealth and which will be put in the new day of just dealing, is not, "how much money have you got?" but, "how did you get it?"

Constipation brings many ailments in its train and is the primary cause of much sickness. Keep your bowels regular, and you will escape many of the ailments to which women are subject. Constipation is a very simple thing, but like many simple things, it may lead to serious consequences. Nature often needs a little assistance and when Chamberlain's Tablets are given at the first indication, much distress and suffering may be avoided. Sold by all dealers.

POPULAR PICTURES.

Reproductions Have Netted Fortunes for Publishers.

An artist's lot is not always a happy one. The late Holman Hunt struggled for years against severe criticism in his effort to simplify, purify, and beautify British art. At one time his poverty was so great that he made up his mind to emigrate to Canada; but, fortunately, Millais came to his brother artist's rescue, and persuaded him to go down into Surrey and continue his work.

It was here that he painted the background for his famous picture, "The Light of the World." For three months Holman Hunt painted all night in the open air by the light of the full moon and a solitary candle, and during that time he placed upon the canvas his immortal work. All over the world "The Light of the World" has been exhibited and caused a great sensation. Reproductions sold in every town and country village. Its sales up to the present time cannot fall far short of a million pounds.

The original picture was placed in a chapel at Oxford, but later the artist went to the United States, and the damage that had been caused by neglect. Then he painted a larger copy, which was hung in St. Patrick's.

"The Light of the World" is almost, but not quite, the most popular painting in the world. It is beaten by the wonderful "Head of Christ," by Max. There is no neck—just the head. The eyes seem to be moved, but after a while they appear to open. It is, of course, merely an artistic trick, but so wonderful that it seems that some people regard it as a miracle. This is the most popular of religious paintings, and well deserves its reproductions of it have been sold.

The picture that beats all records is "The Eiffel Tower." In the ten years one copy of the photograph sold over 700,000 copies, and at the present time there are between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 scattered all over the world.

Compared with this, the sales of photographs of the Tower Bridge are quite insignificant, although they amount to nearly 1,000,000. Strange to say, Londoners do not buy many of their pictures. Most of them are bought by visitors to the Metropolis, who take them away as souvenirs. The historical interest of the Tower of London always appeals to those who come to London for a holiday, and hundreds of thousands of photographs of the Tower Bridge have been carried across the Atlantic to the States. The sales of it greatly exceed those of the Tower Bridge, and since photographs became popular it is estimated that about 1,200,000 pictures of the Tower have been produced. At the end of last year, the sales of this would realize $25,000, but many of these were sold for two and three shillings, and even more.

The sales of photographs of the late Queen Victoria were simply enormous, and must during her lifetime have realized 1,500,000 pounds. In the Colonies and in India, and in one case a single Australian firm took $25,000 worth in one shipment. The photographs of Queen Alexandra command a ready sale; one firm makes over $5,000 a year from this source alone.

May Be Result of Her Diet.
For years English women never ceased to be interested in the secret of Queen Alexandra's beauty and even more youthful than many a woman of 40. It is said that her diet has much to do with this. Queen Alexandra never touched a single morsel of food except chicken, turkey, duck and game. The vegetables she has served to her are cabbage, spinach, peas and beans. She does not eat pudding or pastry, and for dessert has simply fruit cooked of uncooked nuts and raisins. She is particularly fond of nuts, and has been known to make an entire luncheon of almonds and walnuts dipped in salt. She eats more than butter, and very little butter, but quantities of cream.

Her Majesty drinks nothing but hot milk, having given up tea and coffee and wines years ago. On this diet with a moderate amount of exercise, she has remained so youthful, and very little figure and wonderful softness of skin.

Botany Bay.
Sir Joseph Banks was the man who invented the once familiar phrase "Botany Bay." He was the botanist attached to the expedition of Captain Cook, the "Australian Columbus." Landing at this bay, close to the present city of Sydney, he found such an abundance of strange plants and flowers that he associated the word "botany" with it for all time. For a long time Botany Bay and Australia were synonymous in England. Sydney has spread out to the historic bay, and you can travel by train car to "Botany" if it was Sir Joseph Banks who made the kangaroo and other Australian animals known to science. —London Graphic.

A Lasting Flower.
A common South African flower possesses the valuable property of keeping fresh for two months or more after cutting. It is a white Star of Bethlehem, producing a compact spike of flowers. Its great stalk is 18 inches to 2 feet long. The flowers are of a thin and papery tissue, all white except the yellow anthers. It can be sent over to our sister from South Africa to Britain, and there lasts for weeks in water.

A Collector of Medals.
A Yorkshire collector of medals, Dr. A. A. Payne, Hillsborough, Sheffield, has been awarded medals for his collection of 2,500 worth $26,000. He has fifty medals that have been connected with either the peerage, baronets or knighthoods.

PAYING PREMIUMS 70 YEARS.

And the Company Wants Postage For Mailing the Receipt.

Your favorite funny paper would blush to publish a number without including a few stories of the careful business methods of the Scotchman, but the other day it witnessed an evidence of the canny business methods of an English company, which makes the saying that "the farthing was made so the Scotch could be charitable" look pale.

Mr. Henry William Eddis, of No. 172 Roxborough street east, Toronto, a quarter of a century ago the city's best known accountant, and the founder of the Institute of Accountants in Toronto, is perhaps the oldest living "paying" Canadian insurance policyholder. He is now in his ninety-first year, and has carried insurance on his life in an English company for seventy years—some time before the foundation of any Canadian institution of the nature.

In those days pauper policies and all such fancy brands were unknown. There was just one kind—a straight life. That is, you pay a certain premium each year for a certain sum of insurance, which sum is paid to the beneficiary at the death of the one insured.

Mr. Eddis has long ago paid in more money than the total amount of the insurance, but on this form of policy he must keep up the yearly remittance just the same to keep the insurance in force.

Despite this fact, in sending the receipt back to him for the seventy-first premium, the general manager of the English company requested, in a note written in his own hand on the bottom of the receipt, "that in future in sending the premium would Mr. Eddis please include a penny for postage for mailing receipt."

Can you beat it?—Toronto Weekly Star.

Increase in Immigrants.

For the ten months, April to January, of the current fiscal year, the number of immigrants who arrived in Canada was 260,687, as compared with 165,567 during the corresponding months of last fiscal year. The gain is 57 per cent.

The number who arrived at ocean ports for the same period was 158,670, as against 104,456 for a like period last year, an increase of 50 per cent. From the United States for the same months there were 102,017 immigrant arrivals; for the corresponding ten months of last fiscal year there were 80,862, the gain from this source being 26 per cent.

Golf Ball Killed It.

In the window of a well-known taxidermist in Edinburgh is to be seen the figure of a stinging perch on a golf ball, and enclosed in a neat glass case. The poor bird is mounted on the perch, and it caused its death. The incident happened on the golf-course at Elie. The bird was struck while in flight and instantly killed.

"Why don't you try to make your self one of the intellectual celebrities of your time?"

"What's the use?" answered the bright but indolent young man; "the first of my kind has been killed in eating would come along and want all the credit."

SUFFERED SINCE HER CHILDHOOD
BUT DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS MADE MRS. LAPRAIRIE A NEW WOMAN

Nipissing Lady gives an experience that should prove of immense value to the suffering women of Canada.

Laprairieville, Nipissing District, Ont. (Special).—After suffering from various forms of kidney ailment since I was a child, Mrs. O. O. Laprairie is a well woman and once more it has been proved that no case of Kidney Trouble is too severe or of too long standing for Dodd's Kidney Pills to cure.

FUNNY LAWS.

England Has Had Some Queer Acts of Parliament.

"An Act of Parliament, sir, is a serious thing," Speaker Brand once said to a frivolous member, in a tone of grave rebuke, "and should be protected from unseemly humor. And certainly the statute-book is usually as little calculated to provoke a smile as any dry-as-dust volume on archæology. But it has its amusing corners, nevertheless, if one is only diligent enough to look for them."

In fact, sometimes they leap to the eye, as in that clause in the Irish Bank Act of 1808 which provided that "the profits shall be equally divided, and the residue go to the Governor"; and in an old-time act once quoted by Lord Palmerston, which provided for the possibility of Good Friday falling on a Sunday—"happy thoughts" of which even the late Major O'Gorman might well have been proud.

The most curious provision in the vaccination might well take alarm at one section in an Act of 26 and 27, which made vaccination compulsory on all persons. By section of this act the registrar was ordered "to make out a list of the names and addresses of all persons who have failed to transmit or lodge a certificate of vaccination, and upon receipt of the list or order of a vaccinator appointed by the local authority, the persons named in the list, he, in pursuance of such order, shall vaccinate the persons named in the list."

As it was the duty of parents to forward the certificate, it was thus clear that if they failed, from oversight or any other reason, to do so, they would have to submit their own arms to the needle and lymph, a penalty which, is not necessary to say, was as little contemplated by the law as it would be relished by the parents. Equally alarming was the Act passed in 52 George II for the registration of births in England. By the 14th section of this Act, "if any person refuses or neglects to register or issues a false copy of an entry, he shall, on conviction, be deemed and adjudged to be guilty of felony, and shall be transported for a term of fourteen years."

So far, so good! The penalty might be unduly severe, but at least it fell on the culprit. But read a little farther. By Section 18, "one-half of the fees or penalties to be levied in pursuance of this act shall go to the person who shall inform or sue for the same." Thus the promised inducement to anyone who should lead him to report a breach of this law was that the informer should himself go to "Botany Bay" for seven years (half the term) to receive the assistance of justice!

The statute for the rebuilding of Chelmsford Jail provided that prisoners should be confined in the old jail until the new one was built. A very friendly shrewd eye would think. But as a subsequent clause ordered that the new prison should be constructed on the same site as the old one, the difficulty of providing accommodation for the prisoners during the pulling down and rebuilding was so obvious that a new bill had to be drafted.

Scotch Students.

Many a man who never had any "schooling" gets a "schooling" and often a surprisingly good one.

A traveler in Scotland once met a farmer whose ground rent was about $20 a year, but who wrote in poetry in Gaelic that was of high order.

This same traveler met a youth in Scotland who rode from his home on horseback to the seaport and then across Scotland to Aberdeen, where he sold his horse to enter the university.

It is related of another Scotchman that he was overheard repeating a line of Tennyson, whereupon some one asked him what he liked best.

"Homer," he replied.
"Whose translation do you read?"
"I rarely read a translation," he said, "I read the original in my apron. I like best to read Homer in the original Greek."

Quickhands.

Quickhands have a horrible fascination for writers and readers of fiction, and the reality is every bit as bad as the fiction. One of the most remarkable quickhand accidents occurred years ago in New Zealand. Two prospectors were wading across the mouth of a small stream running into the sea in the north island of New Zealand. Both stepped into the edge of it got loose. The other sank rapidly and, in spite of his companion's efforts, was sucked under. When an attempt was made to recover the body it was found that the sand was enormously rich in gold. From a single ton of the stuff worth of gold was washed.—Pearson's.

Dr. Johnson's Oudgel.

The reign of George II. was a great fighting time. Every man who went abroad knew that he might have to fight to defend himself against foot-pat or bully. Most men carried a stout stick. When Dr. Johnson heard that a man had threatened to horse-whip him he ordered a thick cudgel and was easy in his mind. There were no police, and therefore a man had to fight. It cannot be doubted that the martial spirit of the country, which was so full of energy, was greatly sustained by the practice of fighting, which prevailed alike in all ranks.

Seed - Time and Harvest

The school children of Toronto had at their credit on the 10th of March last in the Penny Savings Bank $104,381.85, of which amount it is said one boy deposited the tidy sum of $500. This splendidly illustrates the advantage of a convenient means of depositing small amounts. But what is of greater importance to our young people and to older people also, is that they should have some plan of investment for their savings that may be of permanent advantage to them, a plan that, when old age arrives and their earning days are over, will furnish an income that will enable them to live in comfort and happiness and dignity for the remainder of their lives. Such a plan is provided by the Canadian Government by its Annuities Act. If, for example, the lad referred to, who we will assume for the purpose of illustration is 16 years of age, will avail himself of this plan, and will deposit with the Government one-half of the amount which he has already saved, or $250, he will receive at 60 an Annuity of $151.85; and if he will add to his $250, $20 a year from 16 to 60, he will receive a further sum of $245.70, or a total income of $400.55 a year for life, payable in quarterly instalments. If he should die before 60, all his payments would be returned to his estate with 3% compound interest though the same payments would secure for him a larger Annuity if he did not wish to provide for this return.

If the pennies of the children had not been deposited in the Savings Bank, there is little doubt that in the majority of cases they would have been spent on trifles; but while the custodian of their savings is the Saving Bank, the temptation to withdraw will constantly recur. If deposited with the Government for the purchase of an Annuity, they cannot be withdrawn, for if they could be the object aimed at would probably in 99 cases out of 100 never be attained. The advice of Sir Walter Raleigh: Use thy youth so that thou mayest have comfort to remember it when it hath forsaken thee, and not sigh and grieve at the account thereof; use it as the springtime which soon departeth and wherein thou oughtest to plant and sow all provision for a long and happy life, is good advice still.

though given over three hundred years ago; and you can now plant and sow where the harvest will be sure and abundant, for the Annuities plan is positively the only plan open to you that will enable you to spend your principal and interest without your income becoming smaller no matter how long you may live.

In youth, life seems limitless and boundless, but before middle age is reached the shortening process becomes daily more real. There is no time to sow "wild oats". Statistics show that at 45, 97 per cent of men meet with reverses and lose their entire accumulations; that at 60, 95 per cent are dependent upon their daily earnings or on their children for support; and that of those who fail at 45 only 2 per cent ever recover their financial standing. The advantages, therefore, which the Annuities system presents as a means of making provision for old age should be apparent to everyone. In an interview a few days ago with an old lady of 90, who is an inmate of a poor house, she said she frequently cries for hours at a time at the thought of having to end her days in such a place. But no one who has purchased a Canadian Government Annuity need ever be afraid of ending his or her life there, as no process of law can deprive him or her of it. The wolf will never enter their door.

Anyone of the age of five or over who is domiciled in Canada may begin, and may receive the Annuity at 55 or any age thereafter; and any person now of the age of 55 or over may purchase an Immediate Annuity. For a small addition to the ordinary rate an Annuity may be continued for a certain number of years though death occurs before the number of years expires.

Literature explaining all about this most provident system may be obtained at the post office or on application to S. T. Bastedo, Superintendent of Annuities, Ottawa, to whom letters go free of postage. He will be glad to give you all information if you will write to him.
